

STORY'S BAIL IS NOW FIXED

Alleged Defaulting Cashier Of Belleville Bank Hunting For $8,000 For Security.

WILL HAVE TO STAND FOR TRIAL

Preliminary Hearing Brings Out Many Damaging As Well As Extenuating Circumstances In The Bank Maze.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 8.—Friends of Ed. C. Story, held for trial on charges of embezzling $23,000 from the Citizens' State bank of Belleville, are trying to raise a bond of $8,000 to get him out of jail where he is awaiting trial. He has half a dozen relatives who could furnish the bond readily, but who refuse because of family trouble dating from a time when a will was found after the death of Story's rich father, leaving the bulk of the father's $200,000 estate to the son who is now charged with state prison offenses.

As the result of a plan by Story's attorney, J. M. Clancy of Stoughton, Judge Donovan reduced the amount of bail from $10,000 to $8,000, but even the smaller sum has been found too large for the few remaining friends of the troubled cashier and village financial king to raise. Most energetic in the search for bail bonds, and with the exception of his wife the only near relative standing on the side of the accused banker, is his daughter, Lulu, who sat at his side in court throughout the preliminary examination and consulted with his lawyer as though she and not her father was on trial and knew all about the transactions that led to the arrest. She is an artist of talent, has been highly educated and is a graduate from the Art Institute in Chicago. The home in Belleville is richly decorated with works of art by her brush. The walls are covered with great paintings in rich frames and it is said that this home, which is in the name of Story's wife, would save the bank from loss if turned over with its valuable contents. Mrs. Story, however, has refused to give up this property, although other property was promptly turned over.

Interest is keen throughout the southern part of the state in this complicated bank defalcation, and Story is not without sympathizers. Here are the theories of the case, according to which the prosecution and the defense are making their fight.

Prosecution—Story used the money of the bank from time to time, his pecuniary needs continually growing larger until they reached the total of $23,000. To cover up his shortage, he charged sums against the account of one Henry Elmer, a weak minded fellow, who dealt in cheese, buying from the factories of the neighborhood and selling in Chicago. Elmer is a most peculiar fellow and appears to be wholly ignorant of the incidents of business, banking and accounting. He kept no books and never had a settlement with Story nor was told that his account was overdrawn. The prosecution claims that Elmer was not overdrawn $23,000 as claimed by Story, but that Story used the ignorant fellow's account as a place to cover up his own thefts. The prosecution assumes that Story made a fake attempt at suicide, making a "dying confession" to the effect that the shortage was caused by too much activity to get business, that in order to get the patronage of Elmer for the bank, Story allowed him to overdraw his account for $23,000. The prosecution maintains that this story is utterly ridiculous.

The defense claims Story was required by the bank directors to fight for business against the other village bank; he secured Elmer as a depositor in this way; Elmer lost in cheese dealings and overdraw his account; to make this up Story advanced him more and more credit until the overdraft reached $23,000; then Story tried to cover it by falsifying the books and juggling with the accounts of loans and discounts, deposits and sums due from other banks, but lived in great mental torment and fear of discovery, knowing that if he would some day come out, when finally discovered by the state bank examiner, Story was so overcome with shame that he resolved upon suicide, wrote a confession explaining Elmer's overdraft, and took what he thought was strong lyo, but which proved to be a solution of potash and did not cause death.

Story has now recovered his nerve and is making a strenuous fight against prison, claiming that he never took a cent of the bank's money himself. The directors all testify that Story was forbidden to give any credit to Elmer unless good security was advanced.

MORE BODIES WERE FOUND ON GUNNESS FARM THIS MORNING

Both Were Skeletons and Believed to Be of a Full Grown Male and a Female.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Laporte, Ind., May 8.—Two more bodies were found on the Gunness farm this morning. Both are skeletons, one believed to be that of a man and the other of a woman. The bodies unearthed today were found beneath a pile of refuse but a few feet below the surface. The first one reached was the badly articulated skeleton of a male adult. The bones were somewhat scattered and were in a good state of preservation. They appeared to have been underground about two years. The second skeleton was discovered directly under the first, the earth between the two being but a foot or so deep. The bones were undoubtedly those of a woman, who appeared to have been buried much longer than the first. They are of small size, evidently those of a full grown female.

BIRCHWOOD HAS A 'DISASTROUS FIRE'

Starts in Saloon and Burns Several Residences and Dwelling Places.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Birchwood, Wis., May 8.—A disastrous fire which threatened to destroy the entire village of Birchwood last night destroyed several business places and residences. The fire started in the Spaulding saloon and spread to the Peterson restaurant, destroying the restaurant and also the proprietor's residence and confectionery store. The store of A. W. Johnson, adjoining the Spaulding saloon on the other side, was burned above the cornice. The citizens worked hard to save the Storin residence occupied by Mrs. Novos. It was saved from complete ruin. The entire damage done by the fire is not known. All of the buildings are insured. It is the worst fire which has visited the town for two years. At that time a fire which also started in the Spaulding saloon did considerable damage here.

WINTER WHEAT CROP BIGGER THIS YEAR

5.8 Per Cent More—House Passes Sunday Civil Appropriation Bill.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., May 8.—The Department of Agriculture in its summary of the May crop report issued today places the total area of winter wheat standing on May 1, to be harvested, at 29,761,000 acres, which is 5.8 per cent more than the area of winter wheat harvested last year. The average condition of growing winter wheat May 1 is 89 per cent of normal as compared with 91.3 per cent on April 1.

The house today passed the sundry civil appropriation bill.

FOUR-DAY SESSION OF HEBREW SOCIETY

Socialist Territorialists Hold International Meeting in Cleveland.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Cleveland, O., May 8.—An international convention of the Socialist Territorialists began in this city today for a session of four days. Many of the branch organizations throughout the United States and Canada are represented at the meeting.

The socialist territorialists are an offshoot of the territorialists of which Israel Zangwill, the well known English writer, is the head. The Zangwill organization is in turn an offshoot of the Zionists. The latter believe in founding a Jewish nation in Palestine only, and the territorialists believe that any suitable location should be selected. The socialist territorialists hold that socialism should prevail in the new country.

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO MAINE HEROES

Maine Remembers Its Sailors in Cemetery at Salisbury, N. Carolina.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Salisbury, N. C., May 8.—The monument erected by the state of Maine to the memory of her soldiers who are buried in the national cemetery here was unveiled today with interesting exercises. A large and distinguished delegation from Maine was headed by Governor Cobb of that state, while Governor Glenn was present as the representative of North Carolina.

The monument is a handsome affair, set from Maine granite. The front of the base bears the inscription: "One Country, One Flag." On the front of the die is the state seal in shield form of bronze. Below, cut in raised letters, Maine's tribute to her soldiers, who died while prisoners of war at Salisbury, N. C., 1864-65.

On the other side of the die are the mottoes:

"Neither hunger, thirst nor offered bribe affected their loyalty."

"To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

"They fought for peace, for peace they fell, they sleep in peace and all is well."

GREAT NAVAL PARADE HELD IN SAN FRANCISCO TODAY

Forty-Six Vessels Of War Participated In The Big Demonstration.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., May 8.—The greatest naval review ever seen in American waters, took place today in San Francisco bay. As Secretary of the Navy Metcalf steamed down the long columns of flag-draped fighters, and was saluted by each vessel in turn, the sight was one never to be forgotten by the thousands and thousands of spectators, who lined the shores and filled the countless excursion boats that dotted the waters of the bay.

As a naval pageant, the review was the most notable in American history. Three have been several great naval parades on the Atlantic coast during the past two years, but in no instance was the number of vessels anywhere near as large as was the case today. Forty-six vessels of war participated in the demonstration. Of course the center of attraction was the sixteen great battleships of the Atlantic squadron. Behind these were ranged the armored cruisers, gunboats, torpedo boat destroyers and fleet auxiliaries. From the city front there was an excellent view of the mighty fleet as it lay at anchor, stretching in a formidable line from the foot of East street to Hunter's Point.

Battleships and cruisers, gunboats and destroyers, all were "dressed" in the fluttering flags and the brilliant hues of pennants and bills of hunting which form the International Signal Code. During the salutes to the Secretary of the Navy, the white puffs of powder smoke floated away like the flocks of summer clouds among the fluttering flags of the decorated ships, the effect being one of unexpected beauty.

In the fleet was represented almost every type of vessel known to the American navy of the present day. The smallest 16,000-tonners of the Connecticut class shared honors with the mightiest destroyers that likewise made

This was the first big review of the navy that Roosevelt has not made in person since he went into the White House. Evans expects to leave for Washington tonight. Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas will become commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet. Admiral Evans was not well enough to go on board the Connecticut today to participate in the review and the time of his departure for Washington is in doubt. Evans was somewhat fatigued from the long ride in the parade yesterday.

THIRTEEN TOWNS TO BUILD ROADS

ALL BUT SEVEN OF ROCK COUNTY UNITS IN LINE.

HAVE APPROPRIATED $11,102

And the Supervisors at the Session Which Opens Tuesday Next Will Set Aside a Like Amount.

Thirteen of the twenty towns of Rock county have appropriated $11,102 for the building of good roads during the season of 1908. The county board of supervisors at the session, which opens here next Tuesday afternoon will undoubtedly appropriate a like amount in accordance with the provisions of the new law, so that a total of $22,204 will be expended on road improvements this summer. The thoroughfares to be improved must be main traveled roads which are a part of the so-called county system of highways adopted by the county board. The appropriations made by the various town boards are as follows:

Alert And Wide-Awake.
Union ... $ 700.00
Pulaski ... 1,000.00
Milton ... 700.00
Harmony ... 700.00
Johnstown ... 1,000.00
Bradford ... 1,000.00
Clinton ... 1,000.00
Turtle ... 1,800.00
Total ... $11,102.00

Only Seven Are Nodding.
The seven towns which have made no appropriations are: LaPrairie, Janesville, Rock, Lima, Porter, Spring Valley and Avon. Three of them are in the city of Janesville. There are probably adequate reasons in some cases, but it seems likely that in others the residents will presently be asking their representatives for explanations. The county's appropriation to double up to a certain limit, each appropriation made by the towns, must necessarily be raised by a levy on the entire area. Such towns, therefore, as do not avail themselves of the opportunity will nevertheless be contributing their share towards half of the amount expended on road building without getting any direct benefits.

Matter of Rollers.
At the January meeting, the county board passed a resolution providing for the purchase of two road-rollers, and authorizing a special committee, of which Supervisor L. E. Gottle was one of the members, to attend to the matter. An Austin-Western motor roller was designed as one of the machines to be purchased, but it appears that there was no stipulation as to the other except that it should be a steam roller. It was provided that the machines should be purchased within fifteen days. No appropriation was made for this purpose and some of those who opposed the movement have since raised the question as to whether a continuing committee, appointed by the old board just before its dissolution, could legally carry out the instructions given. However, the majority of the supervisors will not be found quibbling over non-essentials and it is hardly credible that Janesville common council's ridiculous wrangling over the road roller proposition will be emulated by the County Fathers. It is believed, the county commissioner of highways, will be given the utensils and machinery to vigorously prosecute the work. According to his understanding two rollers have already been ordered for the preliminary test and will be on the ground within a very few days.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Complete Brothhead Building: A. Summers & Son of this city have just completed a handsome 110x44-foot building with two stories and a basement at Broadhead. The work was commenced last August and the structure replaces a mercantile establishment dating back to Civil War days and known as the "old corner grocery." It is of dark red paving brick with concrete foundations.

Will Return to Norway: Carl and Harold Solberg, until recently employed at the Janesville Machine Co.'s plant, have departed for their former home in Christiania, Norway. Their possible return to this city depends upon the outcome of certain business affairs which called them to the old country.

Came To Edgerton: H. H. Ziegler left for Edgerton this morning to personally supervise the running of the Interurban survey through that city. Chief engineer Ellis was in the city last evening for a conference relative to the line.

St. Mary's Court No. 175, W. C. O. P., will meet at St. Patrick's church Sunday morning, May 10, at 7 o'clock a. m. to go to holy communion in a body. All members are requested to attend. E. Hogan, R. S.

Fire Alarm: A still alarm was turned in this afternoon about one-thirty from the Janesville Machine company. A sprinkler sprang, melted out by the heat, was the cause and no damage was done.

Mrs. Chadwick ill: Mrs. Louise Chadwick is very ill at her home on Court street. She has taken ill last night and has had a high fever all day. Her condition is very serious.

Abused the Car Crew: T. C. Cain, a colored man, recently abused the motorman and conductor on the 11:15 southbound interurban car, while in an intoxicated condition last evening. He was subsequently arrested by Officer Murphree and paid a fine of $3 and costs in municipal court this morning. James Hanley was unable to pay $2 and costs and went to jail for five days.

Tried to Get Into Reed Home: While on his way home last evening, Deputy Sheriff Horatio Nelson observed a man trying to gain entrance to the Reed home at the corner of Jackson and Pleasant streets. The individual was trying the door when Mr. Nelson arrested him. He was in an intoxicated condition and $30 was found on his person at the police station. He gave his name as A. J. Houser and paid a fine of $2 and costs for drunkenness in municipal court this morning.

Charged with Non-Support: D. D. Davey appeared in municipal court this morning to answer to a charge of non-support proffered by his wife. His case was adjourned until 3:30 this afternoon when it was expected that some adjustment would be made on the basis of Davey's promise to take the pledge and turn over a new leaf.

KICKER'S COLUMN

Editor Gazette: Owing to the rainy weather, anyone hardly knows that Washington street has one block of macadamizing, as it is almost as muddy and dirty as any old neglected street. It is, however, understood that there are no funds to clean the streets, and it certainly should appeal to the property-owners, after laying out a large amount of money for macadamizing, to do everything in their power to keep the street clean. If each and everyone would take enough pride to clean in front of their respective lots it would be worth that in spirit of consideration. The surplus dirt and old leaves can easily be dumped on the ash pile and would be very little expense to each property-owner. One Who Believes in the City Beautiful.

GUNNESS GIRL'S NARROW ESCAPE

DAUGHTER OF THE DEAD PETER GUNNESS TAKEN FROM HIS SECOND WIFE.

WAS KIDNAPED BY UNCLE

Brought to Janesville Several Years Ago, Where She Lived with Her Grandmother, Mrs. Peter Gunness on Western Avenue.

It would appear that Svenved or Swanhilda Gunness, daughter of Peter Gunness, whose mysterious death and the later developments of her case, committed by his wife, Bella Gunness, at Laporte, Indiana, has startled the country, narrowly missed the same fate that befell her little brother Philip and Mrs. Gunness' two children by a former marriage.

Spirited away by her relatives, she was brought to Janesville several years ago and made her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Peter Gunness, until the latter lady died, Oct. 27, 1906, when she was taken to Elmer Simmonson's home on Albion street.

Paul Olson, whose wife was an aunt of the dead man, said today that the child had been brought to its grandmother's home soon after her father died under mysterious circumstances in Indiana.

Hans Gunness, who lives near the stone quarry, is also another uncle of the dead man and the little girl staid for some time at his home. Gunness' death was so mysterious that his brother Gust, who went to Indiana to investigate it at the time, is certain he was murdered and tried at that time to have the authorities take some steps to investigate the affair.

Becoming suspicious that Mrs. Gunness would not take good care of his dead brother's child, Gust Gunness, presently kidnapped the girl and brought her to Janesville, to the home of his mother, Mrs. Peter Gunness, lived on Western avenue.

Mrs. Peter Gunness of Indiana objected to this course and it is said that close watch has been kept to keep the location of the child from this woman, as it was feared she would try to steal her again and take her back to Indiana. It was after Mrs. Gunness' death a second place of hiding was found on the Elmer Simmonson farm near Edgerton. This child's mother was Sophia Murch, whom Peter Gunness married in Minneapolis in 1892. She died shortly afterwards and then when her father married the Sorrenson woman in Chicago he took her with him to his new home, where he soon met his death.

Relatives of Swanhilda Gunness, who live in the city, say the child is a very bright little girl and is much thought of by all who know her. Left an orphan, by both her mother and father's death, she is cared for by relatives and friends of her father and is now thirteen years of age.

It is firmly believed that but for timely kidnapping by her Uncle Gust and being brought to Janesville, her stepmother would have ultimately done away with her in order to cover up the last trace of any claimant to her father's property. Also, she was coming to an age when she would have been able to have seen things which might have compromised the Gunness woman in following out her vocation of murderess.

As far as relatives here know little Swanhilda never saw any of the mysterious happenings which are being disclosed on investigation of the Gunness property in Indiana, where eleven dead bodies have thus far been discovered. Her uncle Gust is expected from Minneapolis in a few days, when steps will be taken to protect her interests in the division of Mrs. Gunness' property, as it is known that Peter Gunness had some money with which the farm in Indiana was purchased, which should now revert to his daughter.

This afternoon a telegram was received from Chicago showing that the authorities who are investigating the Gunness farm are now anxious to locate Swanhilda, she is to be the heir to the Gunness estate, being the sole living heir of the dead, or missing, woman, and Peter Gunness. Thus far the authorities have failed to locate the girl, except through the story in last night's Gazette, which was the first intimation that she was not one of the woman's victims and dead at the Indiana farm.

Her relatives here will look after her interests and see that she is protected by the law in securing her rights as heir to the property, which will be considerable if the newspaper reports as to the value of the Indiana farm and money the woman had in the bank are true.

In Any Case It Was the Cat.

Two Columbia students rooming together cook some of their meals themselves and take turns in doing the marketing. One of them brought home two chops the other night, intending them for breakfast. Some time in the night a cat stole one of the chops. This brought about the first quarrel that had arisen between the young men. They could not decide the question "Whose chop did the cat eat?"

Sea Snakes Hard to Get.

Collecting sea snakes for the scientific institutions is a difficult process. If the collector is to obtain anything like a fair proportion of the 50 odd species he must cruise through Malayan seas in a small boat and be over on the watch. The only way to obtain a series of the species is to shoot them. Sea snakes come regularly to the surface for air, but the collector is lucky if he gets one out of every ten snakes he sees.

"GINGER CLUB" IDEA

An Improvement Scheme Started by Business Men.

ITS HELP TO A KANSAS TOWN

Hiawatha Prospering in Face of Evident Disadvantages—How Public Spirit and Consistent Civic Improvement Rescued It From Lethargy.

The merchants of Hiawatha, Kan., have taken up the "ginger club" idea started by Kansas City business men. These in each block will form a club, and each will try to outdo the other in improvements. The clubs will work with the Civic Improvement club to beautify Hiawatha this summer. The first club to organize is called the Five Hundred Block Oregon Street Improvement club. The officers are:

W. O. Noble, president; H. D. Adams, treasurer; and P. M. Smith, secretary.

The officers form the executive committee, with full power to spend money for necessary improvements. This club is formed in the smallest business block in town. Every business man and woman in the block is a member of the club. They have subscribed $50 monthly for improvements, says the Kansas City Star. Electric lights have been placed every twenty-five feet along the block, and the lights are kept burning all night. The buildings in the block will be painted a uniform color. Lights will be placed in the alleys and kept burning all night as a protection to property.

The club has made a special spring cleaning contract for this summer, and the streets are swept each day. As the streets are not paved the club has induced the city council to put in a cement crossing in the middle of the block, and property owners have agreed to put cement walks in the alleys. The clubs in the other business blocks will work along similar lines.

A civic improvement club has been in existence in Hiawatha for several years. It has done much to beautify the town. Work for this summer has already commenced, and the residents are taking hold with new vigor. The members of the improvement club have adopted the slogan, "Make Hiawatha a beautiful and spotless town." The members of the club plant and tend flower beds in the city park, which faces the main business block. The park will be strung with electric lights this summer. The improvement club will turn a vacant lot near the center of the town into a children's flower garden.

Each year the club offers prizes for the best kept yards, churchyards and school yards, for the best garden planted and tended by a child, for the best garden planted and tended by a man over sixty years old, for the best looking yard kept in order by a woman and for the best flower garden.

Those who are too poor to buy flower seeds and there are few of them—are furnished with seeds by the club. In the fall a flower show is held, at which the prizes are awarded. The business men and others pay the expenses of the club, and the officers give their services. The city council and the board of county commissioners appropriate money toward the support of the club.

The city administration is in hearty sympathy with the town improvement movement. An ordinance has been passed fixing a fine for any person found guilty of spitting on any sidewalk or crossing in the city. After each rain the dirt streets are dragged at the city's expense, and a movement has been started to pave the streets in the business section. City employees cut the weeds along the street, and when weeds are not cut in vacant lots the city officials promise to see that it is done at the expense of the property owner.

Each Wednesday evening during this summer concerts will be given in the city park. The concerts have been given each summer for nearly twenty years. The band is paid by the business men and other residents. The city council contributes each year to the support of the band. In all the band receives nearly $1,000 a year for expenses. The members are not paid salaries.

The money put into civic improvement has been well spent. There are no big industries in Hiawatha to employ a large number of men; the town is just dependent upon the surrounding country. A few years ago Missouri Pacific division headquarters were located there, but were later moved to Atchison. When the railroad families left, many houses were left vacant, rents went down, and the value of real estate decreased. The pessimistic said the town would never recover. The others kept quiet and worked for city improvement. The work of beautifying the town has brought results.

Hiawatha has grown larger than ever. There are no vacant houses; newcomers either have to buy or build. A water system and sewer system extend over the entire town. The city electric light plant furnishes power for lights on street corners. City property is higher than ever before.

This has all been caused by the citizens making a united effort for town betterment.

There is not a joint or gambling hall in the town.

KNEW MERITS OF HOT WATER.

Bagacious Denver Cat Sought Remedy for Internal Pains.

The story is told of a cat owned by Miss Willard of Denver, that has learned that the hot water bottle will ease pain. Tommy is 14 years old, which is pretty well along in years for a cat, and suffers from pains in his stomach, and the family have been in the habit of applying the hot water bottle to ease Tommy of his distress.

One night Miss Willard was awakened at a late hour by an incessant yowling that came from beside her bed. She hurriedly arose, turned on the light and then saw Tommy bearing a path from her feet to the hallway and back again.

Tommy's mistress advanced toward her pet to take him up in her arms, but none of that for Tommy. The cat scampered right on down the hall, looking back at every jump to see that Miss Willard was following. When it reached the bathroom it led the way into the apartment, and when she turned on the light there was Tommy with the empty hot water bag between its forelegs.

A few minutes later the bag was filled with water heated to Tommy's liking, and he was fast asleep, purring his contentment.

If there is a smarter cat in Denver Miss Willard would like to know where it lives.

SET FORTH HIS APPRECIATION.

Captain's Naive Testimony to the Worth of His Nurse.

Nurses in training have many hardships to bear, but perhaps none is worse than having to appear cheerful under all conditions. A sense of humor is perhaps as great an asset as a nurse can have, for it will help her over many a difficulty.

The daughter of a wealthy man up state became imbued with the desire to know how to earn her own living, and to that end she entered one of the large city hospitals as a nurse, says the New York Press. The work was to her liking, and, as she looked on the bright side of everything, she was generally in a happy frame of mind. Her particular "pet" was an old and illiterate sea captain, who was in the surgical ward with a broken arm which would not knit. He was a cheerful old fellow, and his droll remarks gained for him the good will of everybody. One day when the nurse had paid him some little attention, he said with an appreciative smile:

"Miss L. is the best waitress I ever had!"

Going Down.

A public school teacher in Philadelphia had occasion once to correct the pronunciation of a pupil of Scotch origin. The lad persisted in saying "down" instead of "down." Finally, the instructor's patience becoming exhausted he shouted at the boy, "Down! Down! Down!"

The pupil in question remained undisturbed by this outburst, but another lad in the rear of the room quickly sprang to his feet, stuck out his hand in a mechanical way; then, suddenly exhibiting great embarrassment, sat down.

"Well, my boy," said the teacher, good-naturedly, "you must be a football enthusiast."

"Not exactly, sir," replied the boy, "I run the elevator down to Perkin's."

The Origin of Portugal.

About the year 1094 the name of Portugal appears in the annals. Alfonso VII. of Castile in that year signed over to Count Henry of Burgundy, who had left his native land to help fight the threatening Moor, the county of Portugal as a fief. The name Portugal comes directly from the Latin, signifying the Port of Cale—Cale being the old name for the town of Oporto. The brief of Alfonso marks the beginning of the separate existence of Portugal. Though for many years it was no more than a feudal dependency of Castile, nevertheless this child was the father of the later independent kingdom. In the year 1179 the lords of Portugal took the title of king and refused allegiance to any power, Moslem or Christian.—History Magazine.

A Tight One.

On the score of economy he had refused her the dear little emerald stone—it cost but ninety—to go with her new gown.

Just then Rev. Dr. Fourthday passed the window, and to change an unpleasant subject, he said:

"Isn't it queer Fourthday never got married? I think he'd make a very good husband."

"He didn't make a very good one," she retorted, "when he married us."

An Apple Cure.

A curious investigation that is being made in England just now is to discover how far apples are of use in overcoming a taste for liquor.

The question is asked of medical men in all parts of the country. The large majority declared that they never had known a case of a person accustomed to the free use of apples who was a drunkard; and, inversely, those who were fond of alcohol rarely liked apples.

MORE DELEGATES NAMED FOR TAFT

UTAH, WYOMING AND KENTUCKY INDORSE THE SECRETARY.

LONG FIGHT IN LOUISVILLE

More Than Eight Hours of Disorder—Massachusetts Delegates-at-Large Instructed for Bryan.

Salt Lake City, May 8.—National issues figured but slightly at the Republican convention Thursday. The 473 delegates cheered mightily a resolution declaring President Roosevelt its first choice for the presidential nomination and William H. Taft its second choice; they cheered again when the report of the platform committee advocated a protective tariff, ship subsidies, a greater navy with four more battleships, a department of mine and mining, the "reform measures" urged upon congress by President Roosevelt and postal savings banks.

But when D. O. Riddout, a Salt Lake county delegate, offered a resolution authorizing the Republican state nominating convention next fall to nominate a candidate for senator, harmony disappeared and an acrimonious fight began and the resolution was defeated.

Taft Captures Wyoming.

Lander, Wyo., May 8.—The Wyoming state convention Thursday renominated Frank W. Mondell for congress and adopted resolutions instructing delegates to the national convention to use every honorable means to secure the nomination of William H. Taft. Senators Clark and Warren, Congressman Mondell, Gov. Brooks, G. W. Burkhalter and H. S. Hildgely were chosen delegates.

Taft Men Win in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., May 8.—After having controlled the organization and seated their delegates in all save a few of the contested counties during an all night session of the committee on credentials, the Taft men were apparently about to put their slant of delegates-at-large through without a hitch at Thursday's session of the Kentucky Republican convention when their program was endangered and the state apparently broken.

Instead of winding up the business of selecting delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention in an hour or two, there was a session lasting from ten a. m. until 5:30 o'clock when, after hours of disorder, wire pulling and suspense, the Taft men finally won out and elected the following delegates-at-large instructed for the secretary of war to the Chicago convention: Gov. A. E. Wilson, Louisville; Judge A. N. Burnham, Richmond; W. Marshall Bullitt, Louisville; E. D. Kane Colcord, Louisville.

Massachusetts for Bryan.

Boston, May 8.—With some opposition to instructions in favor of William J. Bryan for presidential candidate, although such instructions were adopted finally, and with a more decided contest over the selection of delegates-at-large, the Democratic state convention Thursday elected four leaders to represent the state at the Denver convention.

WHEN YOU KNOW

Patton's Sun-Proof Paint
IS THE BEST PAINT MADE

It is an honest, practical paint entirely free from water or other adulterant. The paint is composed of oxide of zinc for durability, lead for body, and silica (ground quartz) for filler and porosity. The base is thinned with PURE linseed oil and turpentine driers—no water or chemicals, and all in the Patton proportions.

Why Patton's SUN-PROOF Pure Liquid, ready-for-use is the best is summed up in these reasons:

FIRST—Because the base is theoretically and practically perfect and made in Patton proportions.

SECOND—Because the colors are clear, bright and glossy.

THIRD—Because every drop is always the same, thoroughly ground in exact proportions by machinery. Hand mixed paints are altogether guess work—guess at the amount of oil, drier and pigment. Too much drier or pigment is fatal to a durable paint.

FOURTH—Because the Pattons use PURE linseed oil. There is doubt about the purity of the oil your ordinary buyer.

FIFTH—Because PATTON'S SUN-PROOF PAINTS sell at about the price of "cheap" paint and cover much more surface.

AND LAST—Because PATTON'S SUN-PROOF PAINT or ready-for-use Paint is guaranteed to be fully twice as durable as any pure lead paint or any other ordinary paint on the market. Call for color card.

TARIFF AND MONOPOLIES

The notion prevails in democratic circles, and is more or less popular among republicans, that the tariff is responsible for monopolies, and that a reduction would at once regulate many combines which today are considered burdensome.
In 1904 the democratic platform declared against the tariff and two years later said, "The protective tariff is a breeder of trusts and monopolies." Governor Johnson emphasized the same sentiment in his Detroit speech a few days ago.
But there are always two sides to a question, and people who are shouting, "down with the tariff," so vigorously, full to recognize what would happen if an era of free trade was established.

The Wall Street Journal, noted for conservatism and common sense, has this to say concerning the protective tariff, and what it means to American industries:
"But, suppose that in order to strike at the trusts and get rid of monopoly it is decided to revise the tariff so as to reduce the amount of protection given to these great combinations. Would this have the desired result of destroying monopoly and reducing the power of the trust?
"Is it not possible that tariff revision would have directly the opposite effect and instead of hurrying the trusts would actually increase their power and extend their monopoly? This question is bound to become more and more important as the discussion of the tariff question develops. It is bound also to make the readjustment of the tariff to which now the republican party as well as the democratic is committed, more and more difficult of accomplishment. In his speech at Cincinnati, on Sept. 20, 1902, President Roosevelt said:
"The real evils connected with the trusts cannot be remedied by any change of the tariff laws. The trusts can be damaged by depriving them of the benefits of a protective tariff only on condition of damaging all their smaller competitors and all the wage workers employed in the industry."
"This puts the problem in a definite shape. Let us take, for example, the greatest industrial combination in this country and one which has been favored by the tariff, namely, the United States Steel corporation. How would Governor Johnson or Mr. Bryan or any other leader of the democratic party undertake by changes in the tariff laws to destroy the supremacy of this combination in the iron and steel trade?
"It is probable that the only way in which they could do this would be by so reducing the duties upon iron and steel as to destroy the iron and steel trade entirely in this country. Such a reduction in the tariff would throw the iron and steel trade into the hands of our foreign competitors, and particularly our German competitors. In that country the iron and steel trade has been wonderfully developed under favoring laws, with a high concentration of capital, and with rates of wages much less than those existing in this country. So powerful have the German steel makers become that last year they were able to dump some of their surplus rails in the United States at a price with which even the steel corporation was unable to broken up by thus opening wide the door to German competition, but would even the most ardent of tariff reformers be willing to permit such a destruction of American industry as that would involve, especially as it would mean at least a transfer from an American combination to a German combination.

"If it should be proposed to readjust the tariff, not to a point that would destroy the iron and steel trade of America, but so as to reduce greatly the profits of the steel corporation and the prices of steel products to American consumers, what then?
"Well, the effect of such a change as that, it is believed by many who have studied the subject most deeply, would be practically what was asserted by President Roosevelt, in his speech of six years ago. Such a readjustment of the tariff would not be sufficient to destroy the steel corporation, but it would be sufficient to destroy all of its smaller competitors and thus create in the steel corporation a bigger monopoly than now exists.
"The United States Steel corporation now controls about fifty per cent of the iron and steel trade of the United States. It has a number of powerful competitors, and while the trade is in a condition of such firm control that even in this time of industrial depression prices have been maintained, yet there exists a large degree of actual and a still greater degree of potential competition.
"But the steel corporation, by reason of its splendid organization, its enormous working capital, its control of the best sources of raw material, and its establishment, notably at Gary, Ill., of the most modern appliances of production, is in a position where it can sustain a large cut in the customs duties and yet conduct a profitable business, whereas its competitors, not so favorably situated in these respects, would face probable extinction by the tariff changes.
"It has been shown more than once by the Wall Street Journal that the net profits available for dividends of the steel corporation last year amounted to about ten dollars a ton on the steel sold, while the net profits available for dividends of the independent companies in the steel trade range only from two to four dollars a ton. This shows the enormous advantage of the steel corporation in facing the possibility of tariff reduction. Such a reduction would reduce the profits of the steel corporation, but it would at the same time give it a monopoly of the American trade, because its present competitors could not live under tariff duties which would still leave the steel corporation a margin of profit."
This is the other side of the question, and it is worth considering. This is an age of centralization, and sympathy is with the man or small corporation, struggling to compete with strong combinations.
Free trade would close half the factories in the land, and while cheap foreign made goods would flood the country, they would prove a curse rather than a blessing, to the army of idle workmen.
The tariff may need revising, but the work is delicate and most important, requiring most careful thought and investigation.

The Indiana murderer, Mrs. Guinness, is not accused of insanity. She wanted money and secured it without regard to conscience or consequence. This is the explanation offered by her sister, Mrs. Larson of Chicago, whose husband paid Mrs. Guinness' fare from the old country, 26 years ago. Her matrimonial bureau proved a death trap to all comers, and an estate valued at $20,000 was her reward.

"Say what about Taft?" queried the humble little man of the man who was reading a paper on the street car.
"I guess Taft is all right," was the reply.
"I hope he is—I hope so, but do you know I'm worried about it. I didn't sleep an hour last night."
"But why do you worry?"
"You see, sir, if Taft is not nominated he will have only a few months more to hold office."

Asked for credit, the grocer turned him down.

"That is so."
"He will then be thrown out on a cold and cruel world to make his living the best way he can. The hard times will still be with us. It may be months and months before he can strike a job."
"I don't imagine he would have much trouble," smiled the other.
"But do you know, sir—can you assure me that he wouldn't? I am a journeyman tailor, and I know how hard it is to strike a paying job. Two or three nights ago I dreamed of Mr. Taft. I dreamed of seeing him enter a grocery with a pitcher after a quart of molasses, and when he asked for credit the grocer turned him down. The look on the poor man's face will haunt me for days."

"But it needn't. I have it on the very highest authority that Mr. Taft has over $800 in the savings bank, and his wife can do her own housework if necessary, and there is no doubt of his getting along some way. It is kind of you to interest yourself, but don't let it upset you too much."
"Let us shake hands sir," said the little man as a glad smile came to his face. "You have taken a great burden off my mind, and I thank you. I was troubled, but I'll take your word for it and trouble no more. I can go home and tell my wife that Mr. Taft is all right, all right, and that no grocer can turn him down on the 'lasses question, and that if he wants a new white vest for summer he hasn't got to go to a second-hand store to get it."

Now Walk!

Not pleasant, is it?
The sole of an ordinary shoe is as stiff, as unyielding as a board.

Every step you take, your foot bends, the sole of your shoe bends scarcely at all. The ball of your foot, bearing the entire weight of the body, rubs against the sole of your shoe.

This rub, rub, rub makes your feet burn, smart, ache!

The sole of the Red Cross Shoe is flexible. It is of regular thickness—protects the foot, yet bends with it just as a glove moves with the hand. It entirely prevents the burning and drawing caused by stiff-soled shoes.

Red Cross Shoes give a sense of freedom and ease you can't conceive of until you have tried them.

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY IN SCHOOLS

OBSERVANCE GENERAL THROUGHOUT THE CITY TODAY.

EXERCISES MOSTLY INDOORS

Grass Was Planted at Adams Institution—Voting on State Flower Postponed a Year.

Nature's many moods were interpreted in song and story by the children of the public schools today. By reason of the unpropitious weather, the observance of Arbor and Bird day was mostly of an indoor character, though the scholars of the Adams school brought rich earth to cover some of the bare places in the schoolyard and planted grass seed there. Considerable shrubbery has already been planted on the Jefferson school grounds. At the Douglas school, where the four grades had their exercises together, three garden hydrants were set out with appropriate ceremonies. The exercises in all of the grade schools were completed shortly after ten o'clock and the children dismissed for the day. The voting on the state flower was postponed until another year. At the high school the Arbor Day observance was conducted by the Science club and the following program was given:

Introductory remarks by the president of the Science club—Martha Lake.
"The State Flower"—Edna Badger.
"An Arbor Day Message from President Roosevelt"—Lloyd Curtis.
"A Botanical Adventure"—Della Campbell.
A selection from "The Sky Pilot"—Robert Plumb.
"The Woodnotes of the Veery"—Helen Tracy.

"THE SCARLET LETTER"

The Late Richard Mansfield's Masterpiece.
In "The Scarlet Letter," produced at the Unique theater, we have the wonderful characterization of Pilgrim days. Everyone remembers the story. Hester, a beautiful young English woman, goes to America alone. Her husband promises to follow her, but for years Hester has not heard from him. A young Puritan clergyman befriended her and the friendship ripens into love. Hester's child is born and the minister does not own the paternity. She is condemned to wear the Scarlet Letter and stand in the pillory. It is the little child that reaches the father's heart and in his acknowledgement he ascends the pillory on fete day and takes the place of ignominy which was forced upon Hester. The film is of beautiful photographic quality.

MOOSIE BLUHM SAID TO HAVE BEEN GUILTY PARTY

Forced Loan of Russell Hack Tuesday Night is Reported to Have Been Made by Spring Brook Man.
It is understood that the forced loan of one of Russell's hacks Tuesday night has been traced to the door of "Moosie" Bluhm, a Spring Brook character who figured in the Zimmerman murder case and who recently served a term in prison for a statutory offense. Owing to the introduction of Bluhm's wife, the management of the hack line will probably decide not to prosecute. The vehicle in question was to have carried mail to one of the trains and a serious case might be made out against the guilty party on this basis. The motive behind the act has not been determined.

William Thoroughgood Very Low: William Thoroughgood, a brother of the late John Thoroughgood who resides at the home of Willis Tanberg, 260 South Main street, was stricken yesterday with a severe attack of heart trouble and no change for the better was noted in his condition at a late hour this afternoon.

Lillian M. Phelps of St. Catherine's, Ontario, lectures at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, May 10th. Miss Phelps is a woman of rare personality and a polished artist. The Smith Falls Independent says of her lecture: "As a literary effort, the lecture was of the highest excellence, showing long and careful research as well in matter as in style. Miss Phelps is a master in elocution. She is perfectly at home on the platform; her delivery is unaffected and easy, and her beautifully rounded sentences delivered in a fine and attractive voice, entirely under her control, were listened to by the entire audience with unabated interest throughout. If we cannot give a report of her lecture, we can at least advise all our readers, of whatever opinion, to take the first opportunity of hearing her."

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

MINING EXPERT RETIRES

John Hayes Hammond, the noted mining engineer, has severed his connection with the Guggenheim Exploration company and the salary of $250,000 attached to his position as consulting engineer.

Hammond has been in poor health and his first assistant, A. Chester Heatty, has done most of the work since Mr. Hammond went west several months ago. Mr. Heatty is the likely successor to Mr. Hammond. The latter was operated on for appendicitis a few days ago.

John Hayes Hammond was born in San Francisco 53 years ago. He is a graduate of the Sheffield Scientific school of Yale.

Mr. Hammond is one of the greatest mining experts in the world. Often he has taken as fees for reporting on claims shares in new companies, and always they have turned out valuable.

Hammond became an international figure when he went with Cecil Rhodes to the Transvaal and Rhodesia. When first engaged his salary was $5,000 a month and in less than a year he was getting $100,000 a year. He became consulting engineer to the Consolidated Goldfields of South Africa, including most of the richest properties in South Africa.

Hammond was one of the leaders in the proposed rush on Johannesburg, but Jameson, impatient at delay, made his raid with Hammond and others still on the evening's camp. They were sentenced to death. England intervened and on payment of $125,000 fines were freed. Hammond came to America and in less than a year was making $20,000 a month.

In later days his work has been principally done in his office, acting on the reports of his assistants, some of the smartest mining men in the country.

LED TRANSVAAL RAID

Dr. Leander Starr Jameson, in resigning the premiership of Cape Colony, revives memories of the days of old King Lobengula, the Transvaal raid, the reform movement, which led to the imprisonment of John Hayes Hammond, the American engineer, and other reformers, and, finally, the Boer war, the cost of which to Great Britain, as President Kruger foretold, did "stagger humanity."

Dr. "Jim," as he was popularly known in his hustling days, is about 55 years old, was born in Scotland and educated for the medical profession. He went to South Africa in the early days of the discovery of the Kimberley mines, made the acquaintance of the late Cecil Rhodes and became his warm friend and confidant. The young Scotch doctor soon developed into a South African diplomat, went along on a mission to King Lobengula of Matabeleland, in behalf of Mr. Rhodes' British South Africa company and persuaded the warrior chief, in exchange for a few firearms and other truck to permit the company to settle his country, exploit his gold mines, and so on. Port Malsbury was soon established in Matabeleland, and then came the Matabele war, in which the native warriors were mowed down in thousands by rapid-fire guns.

Cecil Rhodes, who was premier of Cape Colony when Jameson started on his raid into the Transvaal, exclaimed that "Jim" had "upset the cart," and resigned the premiership, but never blamed his friend.

Dr. Jameson, on the resignation of Sir John Gordon Sprigg, the premier of Cape Colony, in February, 1901, was called upon to form a new cabinet. He has held the premiership ever since, and, in addition, has served as a director of the De Beers Diamond Mining company and of the British South Africa company.

FIGURES NATION'S DEBT

William F. MacLennan, chief of the book-keeping and warrants division of the treasury department, is the man who keeps track of the public debt. This debt amounts to the enormous sum of $2,167,869,901, including gold certificates and United States treasury notes, which are offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury.

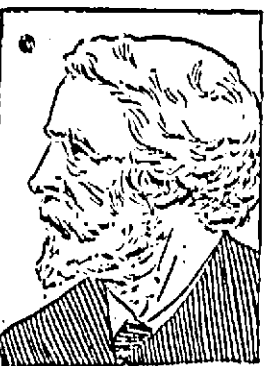

While Mr. MacLennan does not actually have possession of this vast sum, every cent that the United States treasury receives from internal revenue customs and other sources is turned over to him, and the cash is sent to the United States treasurer, who is under heavy bond to secure the government against loss. Every dollar that is disbursed by the government is disposed of by Mr. MacLennan, by means of warrants.

Mr. MacLennan has a marvelous mind for figures. He has been consulted, during his 30 years of service, by Presidents Garfield, Arthur, Harrison, Cleveland and Roosevelt, and every secretary of the treasury has depended on him to a large extent. He is a native of New York and went to Washington first to take a position in the Freedmen's bureau. He began his service in the treasury as a clerk. His work soon attracted the attention of his superiors and his promotion was rapid. He practically organized his division, which is one of the best equipped bureaus of the government. His books are exhibited to-day as models of artistic penmanship, beauty and accuracy.

One of his chief duties is to prepare the annual estimates of expenditures of the government which are submitted to congress by the secretary of the treasury at the beginning of each session of congress as a basis for the appropriations.

Mr. MacLennan is the most modest man in the employ of the government. He positively refuses to talk about his duties, his accomplishments or his home life. He lives in the fashionable northwestern district of the city, but is in no sense a society man. He is 60 years of age, of medium height, has deep blue eyes and wears a mustache and whiskers, which are tinged with gray. Several times a position as assistant secretary of the treasury has been offered to him, but he has declined, preferring to remain at his present post.

FAVORS LIMITED MARRIAGE

George Meredith, the English novelist, who has just celebrated his eightieth birthday, is one of the best examples of pertinacity. Early in life he determined to become a literary man, and he was only 23 when he published his first volume of poems. They attracted practically no attention, but the author kept on, turning out both poetry and prose until, after more than 30 years' hard work, the public was forced to recognize his genius.

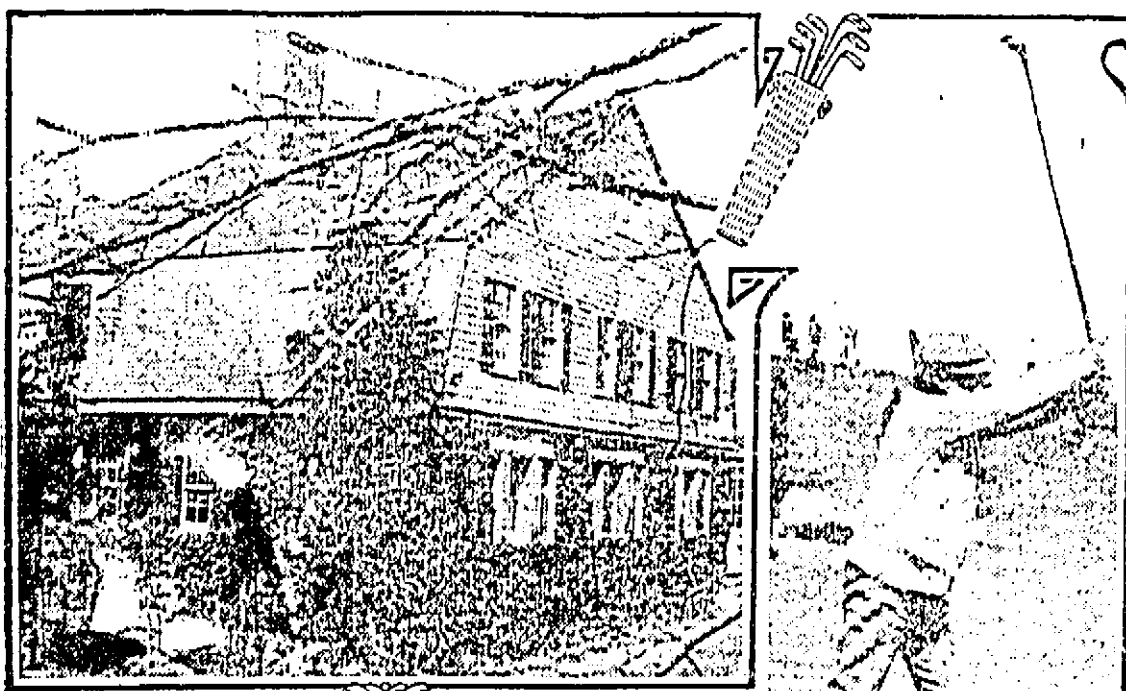

It was his novel "Diana of the Crossways," that made him famous. It was published in 1885, just 23 years after his first book. Then people began to read his earlier works, of which there were 14. Since then Meredith has been turning out about one book a year until 1897, when he dropped his work almost entirely. On his seventieth anniversary he was presented with a letter of appreciation signed by 30 of the leading literary men and women of the United Kingdom. On his eightieth birthday there were over 100 signatures to the letter sent him. It was in book form, handsomely bound, and the novelists, poets and scholars whose names were not attached to it did not belong to the first class. It was a tribute from his fellow workers such as is seldom paid to an author.

Meredith scandalized the world a little over three years ago by declaring in favor of limited marriage. In a sensational interview he predicted a state of society permitting marriages for certain limited periods, the state enforcing a provision of money during that period to provide for and educate children, the government possibly taking charge of this fund.

Mr. Meredith is a widower and has a son and a daughter. He is a great reader, especially of French literature. He used to be fond of long walks. He lives at Boxhill, Surrey. His studio is a two-roomed chalet in the higher part of the grounds surrounding his house.

Accused of Embezzling $429,000. Pittsburgh, Pa., May 8.—William Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National bank for over 20 years, was arrested late Thursday on a charge of embezzling $429,000 of the bank's funds. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Lindsay and held for the federal grand jury under a bond of $50,000, which was furnished. The financial standing of the bank is in no wise affected by the defalcation.

"ADMITTED TO THE BAR."

Combination Truck and Bag Holder.

something new, durable and labor-saving.

No springs to get loose nor brads to tear the sacks.

Indispensable to every farmer, merchant and warehouse owner.

Can be changed to plain truck in five seconds by removing the handle and bagger.

For storekeepers this truck has no equal as it can be used for barrels and boxes behind counters and in narrow places.

For farm and warehouse work it can be used either as a combination or plain truck.

As a bagger it saves one man's time and will pay for itself many times over each year.

It fits an ordinary grain sack and can be quickly raised or lowered to different heights.

The bag is held in place over a flange by two levers, each having a small arm, or dog, which draws the sack into a groove without tearing it.

BUDSBERG BOYS IDENTIFY BODY

IOLA MAN'S CORPSE IS AMONG THOSE ON GUINNESS FARM.

WENT TO MARRY WOMAN

Search for More Victims Stopped by Rain—Relatives of Helgelein and Jennie Olsen Make Depositions.

Laporte, Ind., May 8.—The identification of another of the bodies dug up in the Guinness farm near here as that of Ole H. Budsberg of Iola, Wis., and evidence that he, like Andrew Helgelein of Mansfield, S. D., had been brought into Mrs. Bolla Guinness' net through "matrimonial" advertisements was one of the clarifying features of Thursday's developments in the case.

The identification of the bundle of bones and flesh as the remains of Budsberg was made by the man's sons, Mat Budsberg, aged 29 years, and Oscar H., two years his junior. The young men arrived here Thursday afternoon.

Rain Stops the Search.

A soaking rain, which fell continuously for 24 hours, prevented further excavation about the farm of death and Sheriff Smutzer devoted his day to unearthing possible evidence which may be used in the trial of Roy Lamphore on the charge of having caused the deaths of Mrs. Guinness and her three children.

Lamphore Case Postponed.

Postponement of grand jury action in the case against Lamphore was decided upon Thursday night at a conference of officials of Laporte county. The action was taken on the advice of C. J. Smith of the Pinkerton agency, who was called here by the local authorities to aid them in solving the mystery.

A now and important witness has been found in the person of Louis Houle, a saloonkeeper. He was taken to the conference of officials and there told of conversations with Lamphore in which the latter asserted that he had all kinds of incriminating information which might be used against Mrs. Guinness.

During the sheriff's absence in the afternoon two men, thought to be from Michigan City, caused considerable apprehension by breaking into the carriage house on the Guinness farm where the nine endavors have been kept since their exhumation.

Depositions of Relatives.

Coroner Mack put in a busy day taking lengthy depositions from the father, sister and brother of Jennie Olsen, and also from A. K. Helgelein of Mansfield, S. D. These documents detail at considerable length the known relations between Mrs. Guinness and those two of her victims. Helgelein's proved of especial interest in that it confirmed many of the previous reports regarding the methods by which Mrs. Guinness drew the South Dakota farmer into her web.

The Olson testimony detailed the early life of Mrs. Guinness' foster daughter and also revealed that the woman had refused at one time to return the girl to her father.

Young Woman Arrested as Witness.

A witness whose evidence is likely to be of importance is a young woman who was arrested at the investigation of Prosecutor Smith. She gave the name of Desale Wallace. Just what information she has that is vital to the case was not revealed by Mr. Smith, but he said that her presence was of such importance to him that he had her taken into custody that she might not leave here. Roy Marr, deputy sheriff, found her in Michigan City and brought her back to the county jail here. She was released on bail, bonds of $500 being signed by Mrs. Jessie Morse, Michigan City.

Miss Wallace is said to have received attentions from Lamphore and to have been upon quite intimate terms with him. It is reported that he told her that he knew enough about Mrs. Guinness to send that woman to the gallows and that he would some time get even with her for her attempts to have him placed in an insane asylum.

Illinois Foresters in Session.

Rockford, Ill., May 8.—The third triennial convention of the high order of Illinois Order of Foresters opened Thursday. Reports of officers were presented showing an increase in membership. A lively fight on the rate question is anticipated.

BLACK PAPER, WHITE INK.

Novel Proposition of Wisconsin Print Paper Makers.

Appleton, Wis., May 8.—If a proposition put forth Thursday by Wisconsin print paper manufacturers is taken as seriously by eastern manufacturers and by the publishers of the country as it is here, Americans in the near future will be reading black newspapers printed with white ink.

The chief points advanced for this revolutionary proposition are the preservation of forests, the saving of millions of dollars annually in pulp wood and the reduction in price of print paper to perhaps one-half the present price. Black paper can be made of old and used newspapers, and, in fact, almost any fibrous stock, while white paper requires spruce or hemlock. The proposition will be brought to the attention of eastern print manufacturers and the publishers at the close of the congressional investigation in Washington.

MURDER EXPRESS MESSENGER.

Bandits Slay Employee on Rio Grande Road Near Denver.

Denver, Col., May 8.—Train robbers, who boarded Denver & Rio Grande train No. 4 at Castle Rock Thursday, murdered Express Messenger Charles H. Wright, aged 60, employed by the Globe Express Company.

From the dead messenger the robbers took the keys to a small safe in the baggage car, which they opened and took the contents, in all worth less than $100.

Illinois Senators Go Home.

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—The house Thursday evening passed Speaker Thorpe's bill providing for a board of control of the state institutions by a vote of 70 to 26, and amended the joint resolution passed by the senate for sine die adjournment on Saturday, May 9, making the date May 23. The senators all went home.

Beloit Boy Is Best Orator.

Ablon, Mich., May 8.—Lloyd David Heth of Beloit college won the interstate oratorical contest here Thursday night, his oration being on "The Empire Builder." Seven states were represented.

BISHOPS MORE LIBERAL.

Urges Amendment of Church Discipline Concerning Amusements.

Baltimore, Md., May 8.—Bishop Goodell of Boston was the central figure of Thursday's session of the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, by reason of the fact that it was he who read the address of the bishops, and that this address, always a matter of much interest, contained this time matter of unusual importance.

Although its expressions relative to the liquor question evoked the greatest amount of enthusiasm, doubtless its most important sentences were those embracing the recommendations for the bishops touching paragraph 248 of the church discipline, which is the paragraph relating to amusements.

The address recommends that from paragraph 248 certain words, indicated but not quoted in the address, be stricken out. The exact words are "dancing, playing at games of chance, attending theaters, horse races, circus, dancing parties or patronizing dancing schools, or taking such other." This recommendation is followed immediately by the declaration of the bishops that grave injustice will be done if their recommendation is interpreted as an abandonment of early opposition to worldly amusements, and that it is, indeed, a return to the principles and exact words of John Wesley.

The immediate outcome of the bishops' treatment of the liquor question was the adoption of a resolution favorable to the Littlefield Interstate liquor shipment bill now before congress, which resolution is to be laid before Speaker Cannon of the house of representatives by a committee.

MONTANA LAWYER ARRESTED.

Accused of Trying to Extort $40,000 from Heinze.

New York, May 8.—Edward E. Brennan, a lawyer of Butte Mont., was arrested in the office of P. Augustus Heinze late Thursday afternoon charged with attempting to extort $40,000 from Mr. Heinze.

Brennan is 31 years old and his people are said to be prominent residents of Indianapolis. According to a detective of the district attorney's office, who made the arrest, Brennan came to New York several days ago after having been in communication with Heinze for some time. The complaint which led to Brennan's arrest was made by Heinze. He said that an attempt was being made to extort money from him, that Brennan had told him that he (Heinze) had violated the laws of Montana in some of his copper transactions there, and he charged that Brennan threatened to start the law after Heinze if he was not paid $40,000. The first threats were made by letter, according to Heinze, and getting no satisfaction in that way, Brennan came to New York and visited Heinze in his Broadway office.

Twelfth Victim of Hotel Fire.
Fort Wayne, Ind., May 8.—E. M. Matthews of Columbus, O., who broke his back in leaping from the fifth story of the New Avelline hotel, died Thursday night with his young bride at his side. He was 24 years old. This is the twelfth victim of the fire.

GIRL WIFE IS SENTENCED.

Irene Dolph Given Eight Years for Killing Husband.

Clinton, Ia., May 8.—Irene Dolph, the 17-year-old girl wife who was convicted Wednesday of manslaughter for the killing of her husband, was sentenced Thursday to eight years in prison for her crime, which was one of the most unusual in the police records of Iowa.

Strike-Breakers Driven Out.

HER DARLING BOY.

His Mother Thought She Was Doing the Right Thing.

The small boy's mother was the only one who sat unmoved while the small boy himself, most unbecomingly, gleefully galloped around the circular table, daintily spread with silver and china and covered over by a cut glass lamp.

"I'm a precious boy!" shrieked the infant joyously as he tossed his dexter locks and twiddled his beaming legs with ever increasing speed.

"Meey!" He'll have the lamp over! shivered a nervous young woman as the human gyroscope stumbled over the edge of a rug, claved at the table for support, then triumphantly continued circling. Conversation froze, on pulled lips as they sat awaiting the inevitable crash. Only the voice of the small boy's mother rippled along serenely.

The nervous young woman could stand it no longer. In sheer despair she ventured, "Mrs. Archibald—pardon me—your dear little boy?"

The lady addressed stared blankly, then grasped the situation. "Malcolm!" she said sweetly. "Malcolm, dear, run around in the opposite direction, darling. Miss Vinton's afraid you'll make yourself giddy."—Success Magazine.

All Bad Turns.

Ill Tragedy—Your experience in vaudeville, then, was not very pleasant?

Lowie Comedry—No; at Woollyville they throw rocks at each one of us as we come on for our acts.

Ill Tragedy—Pretty emphatic, eh?

Lowie Comedry—Yes. In their efforts to impress us with their utter disgust they left no turn undone.—Philadelphia Press.

JOHN DIMSON DISCUSSES ANARCHY.

By Norman.

Patterson, N. J.—The prevailing idea that Patterson, N. J., is the anarchic center of the United States, led me to take a trip to this world-famous manufacturing city. In an interview with Chief of Police John Dimson I secured the following statement from him regarding anarchy in Patterson. He said in part as follows: "The city of Patterson has suffered through wrong ideas conveyed to the public through the medium of newspapers, so that the impression seems to prevail throughout the country that our city is the hotbed of anarchy. Such is not the case, and while we have had considerable trouble caused by a few hotheads working up by the speeches of a few well-known anarchists, yet when I read of newspapers throughout the land, it makes one trouble seem trivial by comparison, and it would seem that Patterson is used for a handle to make the whole world think that we are overriden with the pest of anarchy. Patterson is a great manufacturing city, principally of iron and steel. This brings to our

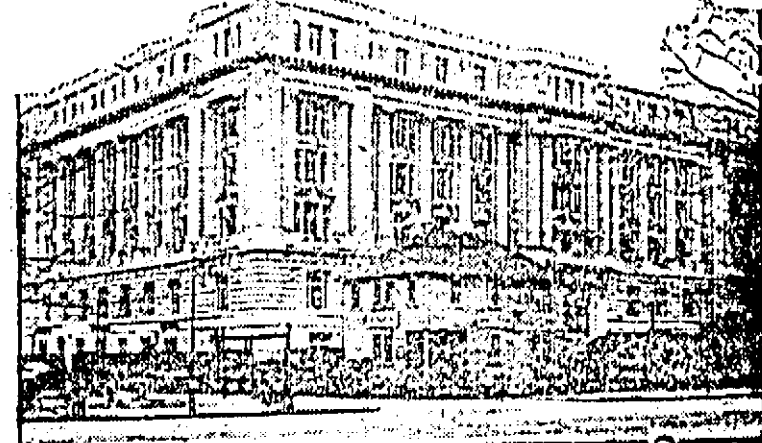

for bravery and a personal note from President Roosevelt is the reward bestowed upon Charles Bennett of this city for saving the life of an unknown lady two years ago. This is not one of the hero fund medals, but is one voted by congress and direct from the government. This reward is seldom offered and only in cases where human life is saved at great personal risk. Mr. Bennett lives at 145 Jefferson street. The letter from President Roosevelt is as follows:

"The White House, Washington, April 4.—My Dear Mr. Bennett: Pursuant to the provisions of the act of congress of February 23, 1905, in act to promote the security of travel on railroads employed in interstate commerce and to encourage the saving of life, you have been duly awarded a medal for extreme daring, whereby on September 22, 1906, you imperiled your life in saving the life of another. I am pleased to convey to you here, with this medal as a testimonial of the nation's appreciation of your courageous and praiseworthy act, sincerely yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

At the time of the act Bennett was a brakeman for the Northwestern railroad. His train had been sidetracked for the passage of a fast passenger train when Bennett saw a woman start to cross the track in front of the passenger. He rushed to the woman's side and attempted to pull her from her perilous position. The woman resisted and Bennett only succeeded in dragging her from the track just as the train dashed past. The woman left without giving her name.

Prospective Buyer of Motor Car—"Heavens! It must be a terrible experience to run over a human being!" Salesman smilingly—"Not with this make of car, sir! It's equipped with the best shock absorber on the market!"

WASHINGTON'S NEW MUNICIPAL BUILDING.

By HENDRICK.

Washington, D. C.—Washington, as the political center of the United States, is rapidly becoming a city of beauty in the hands of the architects and landscape architects who have in charge the details of the campaign for a more beautiful Washington. It is hard to separate Washington the municipality and Washington the capital, but these two must be separated in certain cases. The new municipal building just now being completed will be devoted entirely to the governing of the municipality of Washington, the same as a city hall in other cities, and from this building the city's affairs will be administered.

The New Spring Styles

Are particularly chic and the smartest and best of them are exhibited here. Every model is a gem of itself. The variety is so great that every woman who comes here is certain to find the very suit that she was looking for. Every detail of cutting, tailoring and finish is accurately perfect. The colors are just exactly what you would expect to find in suits. The price for the best of them is - - - - - $15.00

Money-Making Ways of Using Want Ads

To Get or Make a Loan

There are always people who have money to loan. The places with signs on their windows, good as they are, are not the only places to get money. Private parties all over this city are glad to get in touch with responsible people and will loan on good security. To reach such, place a little Want Ad on our Classified page, stating your needs, under the heading "Loans." Men with money are constant readers of this column—and they use it, too. This method of getting a loan or making one, is the quietest, most convenient of any. You always get satisfied, you do business with responsible people—on a reasonable basis. Read and use our "Loan" column—it's wonderfully convenient and is "open for business" at all hours.

EXAMPLES

GENTLEMAN WITH SOME READY MONEY WILL loan to private parties reasonable rate of interest, provided security is good. Would like interview. Address 1111 13th St., this city.

SEND MORE OHIO TROOPS

GOVERNOR ORDERS CAVALRY TO ADAMS COUNTY.

Cleveland, May 7.—Upon request of Sheriff John Paul of Adams county, Ohio, Governor Harrison Thursday afternoon ordered troop A of Cleveland to proceed immediately to Adams county in the Hurley tobacco district. Company G of the Seventh Infantry was ordered to Adams county Wednesday but the sheriff found the force insufficient to guard the places that raid by "night riders" are most feared.

Assistant Adj. Gen. Kautzman, who is in Adams county, after a conference with Sheriff Paul, acquiesced in the request for more troops.

That the state authorities are expecting important developments in the Hurley tobacco district within the next few days is known, but whatever information Adj. Gen. Critchfield has from the scene of the tobacco war is being carefully guarded. Beyond saying that the situation there is ugly, the adjutant general will not discuss it. It is intimated that important information was obtained from the meeting of Kentucky tobacco growers at Augusta Wednesday night and that the troops will be prepared to meet the next move by the night riders.

It is not improbable that more troops will be sent to the tobacco fields within the next few days. There is no intention for the present of declaring martial law in the tobacco district. The troops will remain subject to the direction of the civil authorities.

ILLINOIS "DRYS" ADJOURN.

Adopt Platform and Name Candidates for State Office.

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—The Illinois Prohibition convention was adjourned Thursday afternoon, after adopting a platform.

The platform demands the repeal of the internal revenue tax on alcoholic liquors and the immediate prohibition of the liquor traffic for beverage purposes in the District of Columbia, in the territories and all places over which the national government has jurisdiction; declares that the time has come when the rights of the states should be protected by a national law entirely prohibiting interstate traffic in intoxicating liquors; favors income and inheritance taxes; favors the establishment of postal savings banks; demands laws relating to corporations engaged in interstate business; demands a revision of the tariff on the basis that no trust-made goods shall receive protection and favors a permanent tariff commission to furnish congress with information from time to time.

LIVING GRAVEYARDS WAS SCHMIDT'S SUBJECT LAST NIGHT.

SWINES' FLESH CONDEMNED

Quotes from Isaiah to Prove His Contemption Relative to Pork and Pork-Eaters.

Which eat swine's flesh, and broth
of abominable things is found in their vessels.—Isa. 65:4.

This was the topic and the text which L. Schmidt, the evangelist, used at the Salvation army hall in the Bible lecture last evening. The missionary talked on ten fundamental Bible principles which a Christian has to observe to give evidence of conversion. First of all we must have health reform. If we eat anything forbidden in the text or Leviticus II, or otherwise in the Bible, then we become a living graveyard. Jesus says teach them to observe all things in Matt. 23:23. The Lord's supper and the ordinance of foot-washing in John 13 and I Cor. 2 must be observed by the Christian. All the churches who do not have the spirit of prophecy
according to Revelation 12:17 and 19:10 are not of God. We read of numbers that were led into houses and lead captive, silly women, etc., in II
Tim. 3, and ever learning but never coming to the knowledge of the truth.
All denunciations which do not follow all the Bible principles are false and deceptive. There is only one true church of God. Its seal is found in Exodus 20:8-11 and 31:12-18 and Hebrews 4:9-10, the Sabbath of the Lord. The church or the Christian who does not keep all the commandments is also wrong as we read in
Ps. 119:7 and 119:142-151, Matt. 5:17-19.
Righteousness by faith in Rom. 1:17-19.
Heb. 10 and 11. It is another principal feature. Then follows life only through Christ, John 3:21 and I John 3:12.
To be church-members or pray and read the Bible is not enough to be a Christian, but we must obey God and live like Christ. Another fact is the death of the dead, as we read in Job 14 and Eccl. 9. The dead sleep, they do not go to heaven or hell, until after the judgment day—Acts 24:15.
If we do not believe this part of the Bible it is an evidence that we are unsaved. The second coming of Christ of John 14:1-3 and I Thess. 4:16-17,
that He will come as literal as He went. The sanctuary—Exodus 25:8
and Hebrews 9:21; we must confess our sins to God, not to man or the priest.
I John 1:9. Christ is in heaven using His priest making intercession now for his people on the earth. We must accept and obey the three angels' messages of Revelation 14:6-12, and not worship the beast (Roman church)
or the image (the false Protestant churches). The right churches and the true religions do not take up collections, but the members give tithes
and offerings as, we read in Lev.
27:30-34 and Malachi 3:8-10. No minister of God has a right to work for a salary on religious lines, but must live upon what is given to him, Matt.
10:10-12. All churches who do not follow Bible principles are wrong. The 3, John 3, Acts 2 and 8 are wrong.
The ministers in such are false as well as those who do not keep the seventh day, for God only blessed one day. I have not preached unto the people cunningly devised fables in the time I was here, I Peter 1, but I preached the gospel, the plain word of God. There is a great reform needed on religious lines all over the world.
Mr. Schmidt has come from here to Madison, Wis. He will be in that city 10 days to attend a conference
meeting of the Seventh-day Adventists.
He thanks all who assisted him in his religious work while in this city, especially the management of the Daily Gazette and the Salvation army, in all that they helped. The missionary says Jesus will soon come and reward
all according to Matthew 25:31-46.

GAZETTE COMPLETES
A FINE CATALOGUE.

Badger State Machine Company Have
Just Received an Unusually Fine Booklet.

One of the handsomest lots of printed matter that has come from the printing department of the Gazette recently was that of the Badger State Machine Co. Consisting of some 60,000 folders printed on the highest grade of enamel book stock, with the very best selected half-tones illustrating the machinery and other products manufactured by the company.
These were all imprinted with the names of the companies agents, which are scattered all over the United States. This grade of half-tone printing requires a four roller cylinder-press of rigid impression such as is included in the equipment of the Gazette, and the most skillful workmen must handle the material. The of the printed matter of the Badger
State Machine company, is of the very best grade, and these circulars are up to their standard in every respect.

B. Bruetting, Formerly a Resident of Monroe, Passes Away
in Nevada.

Monroe, Wis., May 8.—Friends here have received announcement of the death of B. Bruetting, formerly of this city, which occurred at the Rawhide mining camp in Nevada, where he had gone to inspect the property with the intention of investing in stock. He contracted a cold that developed into pneumonia and death resulted in a few days. The body was taken to his home at San Francisco and cremated. He was brewmaster for the Blumer Brewing company and left eight years ago, going to Manitowish and later to Mineral Point, where he conducted a brewery up to the time it burned down a few years ago.
His former wife and daughter are now residents of San Francisco.
J. H. Eaton of this city, known as "the plaster king," was slugged and robbed in San Francisco, where he had gone to see the fleet. He claims to have been robbed of money and valuable to the amount of $1,200.
His injuries are not serious, according to reports.

FLOWER BEDS IN CITY DISTRICTS

WHAT TO PUT IN THEM OFTEN
THE QUESTION.

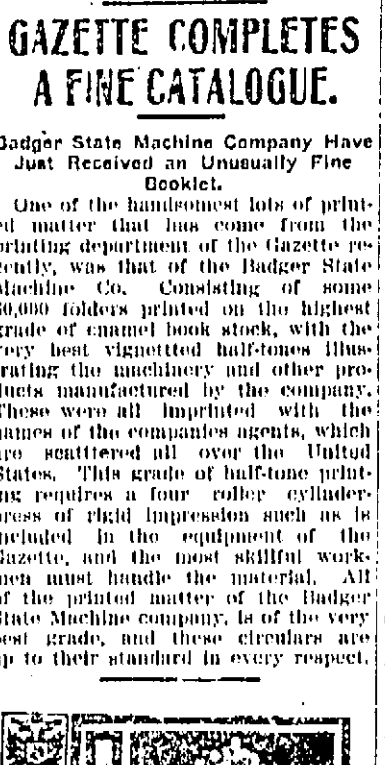

HINTS FOR THE GARDENERS

Shrubs and Hedges of Good Character
Are Also Described in Detail for Readers' Benefit.

In making a flower bed consider
well where you put it and what you put in it. If you want to grow flowers for the flowers' sake the bed may be in the rear of your yard or to one side and laid out like a vegetable garden; but if the bed is to be part of a landscape picture the flowers should be freely distributed among the border shrubs as edging. It is seldom advisable to put formal beds on the lawn. The place for carpet bedding is a park or public square, which is devoted to that particular purpose.
Masses of one variety are more effective than a mixture of different varieties. Flowers grown in the middle of the lawn have little relation to other planting and no background to show them off to good advantage. They are exposed to the sun and wind and the grass roots absorb food and moisture,
making it hard for the flowers to flourish. Every effort must be made to keep the formal beds prim, otherwise they become disfiguring, while if the flowers are planted more or less promiscuously in large irregular borders or along the edge of the shrubbery the failure of one or a dozen plants is not a serious matter. In making a flower bed see that the ground is well drained, that the land is in a mellow and friable condition and is rich. Each foot it should have a mulch of rotted manure or leaf mould which must be spaded under deeply in the spring.
Make the bed as broad as possible so that the grass roots from each side will not meet beneath the flowers and rob them of the moisture.
The garden varieties of the dogwood
are among the most valuable shrubs in use, being especially adapted for moist and shady places. Some of the others have richly colored twigs which produce a fine color effect in the winter. All are hardy and adapt themselves readily to a variety of soils
and climates.
Flowering dogwood (Cornus florida)
is very showy in flower and also beautiful in autumn when the leaves change color before falling. The plant is of free form, rather slow in growth, and ordinarily from 10 to 15 feet high. It has branches spreading almost horizontally. The flowers appear early in spring and in full bloom
the shrubs have a striking appearance
owing to the whorls of leaves that surround the blossoms. It bears a bright scarlet fruit.
Red cedar (Cornus stolonifera) grows freely in marshy ground in Canada and the northern states. Its main stem is prostrate and from it many shoots grow 6 to 10 feet high.
These shoots are green in summer
but scarlet in winter. The flowers are white or cream and are followed by white fruit. A variegated leaved variety can be obtained and in some respects is best, having leaves that in summer are broadly and irregularly margined with yellow and white.
Cornelian cherry is a small tree or large shrub reaching a height of 15 feet. Small, bright yellow flowers appear in early spring before the foliage,
giving the plant a very striking appearance at that time. There are two variegated forms which are beautiful.
Hedges are less used in this country than in Europe because of our dry climate and high priced labor. Hedges require to be frequently trimmed and need considerable moisture, but these things can easily be supplied in home grounds of moderate size and hedges are used with excellent effect on such grounds.
For a good hedge you must have thoroughly prepared, deep soil, set the plants close and shear them at least twice a year. For evergreen hedges the serviceable plant in general is the arbutus. The plants may be set at distances of 1 to 2 1/2 feet apart. For choice hedges in home grounds especially outside the extreme northern states the red-tinsopras are useful.
One of the most satisfactory of all coniferous plants for hedges is the hemlock which stands, shearing well
and makes a soft and pleasing mass.
The plants are set from 1 to 2 feet apart. Other plants that hold their leaves and are good for hedges are the box and privet, the former especially. Box hedges are best for low borders about flower beds and bordering walks. The dwarf varieties can be kept down to a height of six inches
to a foot for any number of years.
The larger growing kind make excellent hedges, three, four and five feet high. The ordinary privet holds its leaves well into the winter in the north. Californian privet holds its leaves longer and stands better along the seashore.
For deciduous hedges the most used plants are the hickory, European thorn apple, or euonymus; the rose-orange and various kinds of roses.
Hedges should be trimmed the first year they are set although they are not trimmed very closely until they reach the desired permanent height.

Justice and Courtesy.
My craving to be just has prevented me from being obliging. I am too much impressed with the idea that in doing one person a service you as a rule oblige another person; that to further the chances of one competitor
is very often equivalent to an injury
upon another.—Ernest Renan.

Delicious Banana Cream.
This recipe is highly recommended by one of our correspondents; try it for dessert tomorrow.
Peel five large bananas, rub smooth with five teaspoonsful of sugar. Add one teaspoon sweet cream beaten to a stiff froth, then add one tea. package of Lemon Jello dissolved in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Pour into mold and when cold garnish with candied cherries. Serve with whipped cream, or any good pudding sauce. JELL-O is sold by all Grocers at 10c per package.

LATEST PHOTOGRAPH OF HER
IMPERIAL MAJESTY, THE CZA-RINA OF RUSSIA.

This new portrait is the most recent that has been taken. The czarina makes a strong appeal to the imagination of the public in this country,
because she is recognized on all sides
as a devoted wife and mother, who is not responsible directly or indirectly for any of the troubles that beset the Russian people, and yet she must face unending danger and lead a life that can only be regarded as one of complete seclusion.

THE KING OF PRUSSIA AND HIS DOGS

Dogs owned and kept by the King of Prussia and by foreign diplomats
in Berlin have been exempt from taxation since long ago. Now the Berlin city council has decided that only diplomats shall be dog tax free. Even the King of Prussia, who happens to also be the Emperor of Germany, must pay the dog tax, despite a protest
in his behalf. The unyielding Berlin city council refuses to make an exception in his favor, declaring that the only persons in the German capital entitled to such consideration would be the representatives of foreign powers. In addition, to deter Berliners from keeping dogs in their flats,
the council raised the annual tax for one dog from $5 to $7, and if more than one dog is kept the tax is $10
a head for the others.

Don't Try Uncertain Recipes
It is entirely unnecessary to experiment with this, that and the other recipe. Why waste time, money and patience when you can get from your grocer, for 10 cents, a package of "Hofmann's Preparation"—Lemon, Chocolate or Custard—for making pies that are so good that when you eat one you will want another? The way to please the men-folk is to give them good pie.

to eat. A man
is all right when his stomach
is all right. Stomach com-

Better than medicine—
cheaper than doctors.

For breakfast heat the Biscuit in oven,
pour milk over it (hot milk in winter) and

breakfast you will like toasted TRISCUIT

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, May 8, 1868.—
The Weather—A slight frost last night not enough to do any damage, we think. Today bright and sunshine at 2 o'clock.

Phed—A runner for a New York
House, named George H. Bloomhart, was arrested yesterday afternoon, for offering goods for sale in this city by sample without a state license, as required by a law of last winter. He was disposed to put on a stiff upper lip and bluff it through, but Justice
Hudson fined him $25 and costs $5
more.

Put A Stop To It—There is a city ordinance prohibiting horses from running at large upon the streets, but no attention whatever is paid to it.
These animals roam the city in squads,
breaking down trees, invading cultivated fields and are a nuisance generally. We are sure it is only necessary to call the attention to the committee to this matter to insure at their hands prompt attention. Let a few examples be made of the men who break the law in this matter, and the ground for complaint will be done away with.

Washington, May 8.—There is an intense anxiety here among all parties

as to the result of the impeachment.
Both sides seem confident of success,
but there is really nothing certain.
Tickets of admission to the Senate
were dispensed with this morning, and very few persons, not over a hundred, were in the galleries.

The Senate was called to order at twelve o'clock, and the chief justice took his accustomed seat. He announced that under the rules the Sergeant at Arms would clear the galleries and close the doors, which was immediately executed.

The first thing to be considered today is Mr. Sumner's proposition that the Senate proceed at once to vote on the various articles of impeachment. It is expected that this will either be laid aside or postponed. The next thing in order will be the rules proposed by Mr. Sumner as to the matter of taking the vote on the articles. The consideration of the thirty-third rule will come up next. After these preliminary matters are disposed of an adjournment
until next Monday in order to take time for consideration, will be urged, and it is thought this will be carried.

This time is asked for by these senators who have heretofore been considered doubtful, and if the senate
agrees to it, it will be a concession to them.

A Handicap Now.

"What sort of telescope do you use for seeing things on Mars?" The omniscient astronomer, habituated to scanning the heavens at magazine space rates, stayed his pen but an instant. "I have learned," he replied,
"not to rely on any telescope. The best of them badly hampers the play of the imagination."

Polyglot Surely.

Hewitt—"Does your wife know more than one language?" Jewett—"She certainly does; she reads French novels
in the original, talks in her sleep
in English, discharges the servant in German and converses with our youngest in baby talk."

Fat Is Food a Necessity.

Many minor ills of the body would be avoided if only care were taken to include a sufficiency of fat in the diet. Fat, we know, is about the most compact form of fuel which we possess, while it exercises a favorable effect upon the processes of the intestinal tract.

Perseverance Essential.

There is a certain point of proficiency at which an acquisition begins to be of use, and unless we have the time and resolution necessary to reach that point, our labor is as completely thrown away as that of a mechanic who began to make an engine but never finished it.—T. G. Hamerton.

That Nasal Catarrh

A Prominent Attorney of Leonardtown, Md.

J. H. Ching, Leonardtown, Md., says—"I have used one box of Bunsen's Catarrh Cure and find a marked improvement in my Nasal Catarrh.
My wife is using Bunsen's Catarrh Cure for Hay Fever and she finds from the use of your remedy
an alleviation of a great deal of pain and trouble."

Nasal Catarrh is a nauseating disease anyone knows who has had to sit close to, or talk face-to-face with a person reeking with purulent catarrh. To get a whiff of the bad breath of such a person is to sicken
at once and turn away.

Have you ever had to endure, in sleighbells, the howling and gagging of a Catarrh victim, or have to sit close to such a person and experience a disgusting, appetite-losing,
foul odor, which you could not explain and did not know what it was?
That's Catarrh, and there are plenty of people who have it. You can get rid of your case without much delay and avoid becoming an object of aversion to others, or even members of your own family, by merely using the simplest cure in the world—Bun-sen's Catarrh Cure.

Millions of trial boxes are given away annually, thereby risking our reputation and every one that is tried produces immediate beneficial results.

Mrs. Jack Lynn, Clintonville, Wis., says—"I have used Bunsen's Catarrh Cure for Nasal Catarrh
and must say it gave me much relief."

Miss Laura Feline, of Hancock, Md., says—"I have used Bunsen's Catarrh Cure for Catarrh of the Nose and throat and it has done me more good than any medicine I ever tried before."

D. W. Barnes, Waverly, Md., says—"I have used Bunsen's Catarrh Cure for Catarrh of the Nose and throat and it has done me more good than any
medicine I ever tried before."

HEIMSTREET'S DRUG STORE.TO WALK AROUND THE WORLD WEARING A HELMET AND PUSH-

London, Eng.—Much interest was recently centered on a strange looking pedestrian at Charing Cross, in the heart of London. This man was of a stocky build, wore a Norfolk jacket and knickerbockers, with a sort of white helmet on his head and a metal collar around his neck. He was pushing a baby carriage, in which were a number of bags and articles of clothing. Upon being questioned he refused to disclose his identity, but stated
he was walking on a wager of $20,
and must complete the entire trip
around the world with the carriage and without disclosing his identity or allowing anyone to see his face.
